Environmentally Preferable Purchasing Consultant
Green Seal, Inc.
Washington, DC
US

Job Type: Consultant

Green Seal is seeking an experienced Environmentally Preferable Purchasing Consultant to work on Greening programs for governments and institutions.

The main responsibility of this position will be providing environmentally preferable purchasing expertise to support Green Seal’s Greening projects for institutions and governments. Further, this position may contribute their environmentally preferable purchasing expertise to Green Seal’s other programs.

Green Seal is a non-profit organization devoted to environmental standard setting, product certification, and public education. Green Seal’s mission is to work towards environmental sustainability by identifying and promoting environmentally responsible products, purchasing, and production. Through its standard setting, certification and education programs, Green Seal identifies products that are designed and manufactured in an environmentally responsible manner; offers scientific analyses to help consumers and purchasers make educated purchasing decisions regarding environmental impacts; ensures consumers and purchasers that any product bearing the Green Seal Certification Mark has earned the right to use it; and encourages manufacturers to develop new products that are significantly less damaging to the environment than their predecessors. Green Seal also has a Greening program that includes assistance for purchasing organizations to initiate and implement environmentally preferable purchasing programs.

Deadline is open-ended.
